

30+ days ago I signed up for T-mobile service and ported my number from cricket service. The phone number port has not yet taken place. T-mobile says that everything is ok and that they are waiting for Cricket. Cricket says that everything is ok and they are waiting for T-Mobile, but nothing is getting done. my rebate period for T-mobile is running out. Is it normal for this to take so long. no one has been strait with me. they just keep running me around.
